

Mercy Clinic Family Medicine Physicians Who See Newborns

Family medicine physicians care for men and women of all ages, from childhood through old age. They can treat most medical problems, but if a referral to a specialist is necessary, family medicine physicians remain the coordinator of their patients' care. At the center of their care is the patient-physician relationship, with the patient viewed in the context of their family.

In addition to our Mercy Kids pediatricians, many Mercy Family Medicine physicians will see and treat newborn babies.

Listed below are Mercy Clinic Family Medicine physicians in St. Louis, St. Charles, Lincoln and Jefferson Counties in Missouri and Monroe County in Illinois who see newborns:
