

Hand Therapy

Restoring function through specialized care

If you've recently experienced a hand injury or have a disability of the hand, wrist, forearm or elbow, you may benefit from hand therapy through Mercy. Our hand therapists can evaluate your condition and offer treatments that relieve pain and restore function, enhancing your ability to perform everyday activities, return to work and regain control over your life.

Your life is our life's work.

Hand therapy assists patients with the following conditions:

- Fractures
- Dislocations
- Joint replacements
- Burns
- Amputations
- Arthritis
- Tendon lacerations
- Ligament injuries
- Cumulative trauma disorders
 - Carpal Tunnel Syndrome
 - Cubital Tunnel Syndrome
 - Tendonitis

In addition to treatments for these and other conditions, our therapy team may also design a custom splint to protect your injury or to encourage increased motion.
